Frequently Asked Questions 3.1 - 04/11/2014

GENERALITIES

Question: Can a player have more than 2 cards in its Hand?

Answer: Yes, if he has been transfused.

Question: It's too hard to cast a Ritual! How is it possible?

Answer: Don't worry! The Hunters must simply coordinate. The threat of a Ritual can lead the Vampire to be unmasked, as the Dawn card shortens a round table. « Well well... a participant of the round table has not given a Component to Renfield... the vampire is among them! »

Question: May Renfield randomly appoint the Vampire during the Distribution?

Answer: No, he has to choose him personally.

CONDITIONS FOR VICTORY

Question: If the Vampire's Character card has been disclosed by a Silver Mirror, may I kill him anyway?

Answer: Renfield should not disclose the Vampire's Character card during a Silver Mirror ritual, but if he does, the Hunters may still kill the Vampire with the Stake.

Question: Do the Bites given to Renfield by Hunters count in the victory conditions?

Answer: Yes are included in the bites necessary for the Evil team to win.

A// ROUND TABLE

Question: Can the number cards in the Hand of a player change during a round table?

Answer: No, the number of cards in player's Hand remains the same at the beginning and at the end of a round table, because he draws 2 cards, gives 1 to Renfield and discards 1.

Question: Must Renfield draw a card of the Clock after the last player's action if every single player has played?

Answer: Yes.

Question: May a player draw a card in another player's Hand to give it to Renfield?

Answer: No, players must choose by themselves the cards they give to Renfield.

B// EFFECT OF THE CARDS GIVEN TO RENFIELD

Question: Why does Renfield not show the card he discards from a bitten player's Hand?

Answer: Otherwise the Vampire he could be revealed when bitten. If Renfield shows the discarded card, well... that's his problem!

Question: Where goes the Clock's card discarded by a Time Distorsion?

Answer: In the discard pile, so it can come back later in the game. There is only one discard pile in Nosferatu.

Question: Why does Renfield must not disclose the way the cards he has been given were distributed, as he places them under the discard pile?

Answer: So the Vampire can always say he has played a Component without being confounded by the distribution of the cards given to Renfield during a round table.

Question: If the Character card of a player has been disclosed by a Silver Mirror, is this player eliminated?

Answer: No, he plays normally.

Question: If Renfield has been given several Bites during the same round table, may he place them at once in front of the same player?

Answer: Yes.
